

COVID-19 and Your Travel MedEvac Plans

During these challenging and unprecedented times, please rest assured that Travel MedEvac stands ready to assist you. We understand you may have questions about how worldwide medical and travel restrictions affect your plan, so we're sharing the relevant information below. This is being provided as of October 9, 2020 and subject to change as we are in a rapidly evolving environment.

We are pleased to share that unlike many membership and insurance programs in the marketplace, Travel Medevac's Evacuation, Emergency Medical and Trip Cancellation plans issued after January 2018* do not exclude coverage for infectious diseases. This means COVID 19 will be treated as any other sickness for an illness related loss.

(*Terms contained in multi-year membership plans, issued prior to January 2018, limit services due to infectious disease.)

Travel MedEvac and our assistance partners are monitoring the regulations and updates from a variety of sources including the U.S. Department of State, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, U.S. Customs and Border Protection, the Government of Canada, as well as others. While COVID 19 will be covered as any other sickness for an illness related loss, please remember governmental and regulatory issued restrictions can impact service in the U.S. and/or other countries where you may be located.

Please see all Terms & Conditions of your specific Travel MedEvac Plan for details on services/coverages provided and restrictions. Thank you for trusting Travel MedEvac with your travel insurance protection and as always please contact us at any time with questions.

Safe travels,

Your Travel MedEvac Team
